Fixtures for Sale and Store for Rent.

Our Home "Riverview,"

Is for sale, Mr. Elliott and family are to vacate it May 1st, and it is larger than we can occupy to advantage. It is by far the best home in this city and it is hard to duplicate (everything considered) in the United States for the money it costs. The site is superb. It embraces ten full city lots 4 by 8 rods. The house and barn are every way right. It is worthy the attention of any one seeking a first class home. As we before said, we will sell it and will give possession May 1st.

We have an architect working on plans for a smaller but equally good house, to be built for ourselves directly opposite "River-view," and if we can sell this we shall have it built to occupy by July 15th.

This is an unusually attractive opportunity. Come and see us.

Yours very truly,

Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

Our Home Journal

"The Home" has been a source of much pleasure to us and that it has not been of much profit in way of money, cuts no figure. But owing to the fact that we are driven in our other lines of work and that we are to lose the editorial assistance of Mr. Elliott, we have concluded to abandon the publication of the same. Friends who have paid for 1891 can have their quarter by calling at our office. Thanking our readers and promising that they shall hear from us frequently in some form, we are

Never Before

Were we so well fixed to meet Home-seekers and lot buyers as we are at this time. Any one desiring a home can get it if they will call on us, at terms so easy that they must buy. A few very choice lots for sale on South Main Street and in Glen-Etta and Riverview Park.

Yours very truly,

Heirs of a Dead Millionaire Create a Sensation.

HOW THEY OUTWITTED THE ASSESSOR

After a Bitter Struggle to Erase the Payment of Taxes They Suddenly Leave the State with All Their Portable Property.

TOOK FRENCH LEAVE. DELPHI, Ind., March 27.—A little over one year ago Abner H. Bowen died at his home in this city, leaving a fortune, mostly in personal property, of $5,000,000. He had scarcely been buried when the officials of the county moved on his estate to collect back taxes on property that had been hidden from the assessors, and the series of rows it raised would fill a large book. The elder Bowen, although possessed of millions, listed for taxes only a few thousands, but so great was his power that no man made a move during his lifetime to compel him to pay taxes on all the property he owned. The Bowen heirs failed to agree among themselves upon an administrator and the court appointed the county treasurer, under the statute, to act in that capacity. The heirs fought his appointment as being inimical to the interests of the estate and took the matter to the supreme court, but the higher court decided against them.

The heirs kept up the fight until Wednesday afternoon, when the attorneys for the county filed a statement with the auditor asking that personal property to the value of over $2,000,000 be placed upon the tax duplicate against the estate of Abner H. Bowen. This demoralized them. They secretly commenced to pack up their possessions. Trunks, valises, satchels and boxes were brought into requisition, and in them were stored notes, mortgages, bonds and stocks. With these in their possession the heirs departed on the midnight train and now the widow is in Urbana, Ill. Edward Bowen is in Chicago, while A. T. Bowen and Etta Bowen are on their way to Philadelphia. All have given up their residence in Indiana except Nathaniel Bowen, who retains the real estate. It is estimated that the value of the property carried away is in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

When the announcement of the retreat of the heirs was made Thursday morning no one appeared more surprised than their attorneys, who declared that they had not received a hint of the intended flight of their clients. Two reasons are given for the sensational move of the Bowen heirs. They desired to get their possessions out of the state before the assessor came around next month to list property under the new law, and they also figure on having the tax suits transferred to the United States court on the ground that they are non-residents. The bank in this city owned and operated by the family is in the hands of an assistant cashier and is meeting all obligations, many depositors having withdrawn their money Thursday. It is anticipated that when the news is generally circulated in the country a run will be made upon the institution.

CONFRONTED BY WANT.

A Gloomy Outlook for the Locked-Out Clothing Cutters of Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 27.—The results of the lockout of the clothing cutters of this city by leading manufacturers are already assuming a serious phase among the thousands of employees who are dependent upon the clothing industry for employment and support. The manufacture of clothing in this city has grown to an annual output of nearly $11,000,000 and has become one of the principal industries of the city. Nearly all of the leading clothing manufacturers will have finished work on all clothing cut by the end of this week, and unless the cutters return to work or others take their places, next Monday 20,000 people will be thrown out of employment. The manufacturers will attempt to resume work as soon as possible with cutters from other cities.

Death of Gen. J. Ekin.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 27.—Gen. James A. Ekin, of the United States army, died at 12:30 a. m., at his home here. Gen. Ekin was born in Pittsburgh in 1812. He entered the army as lieutenant colonel of the One hundredth Pennsylvania volunteers. He was a member of the commission which tried Mrs. Surratt and took a prominent part in the funeral of Lincoln. He was for many years quartermaster of the government at Jeffersonville, Ind.

Acquitted of Murder.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 27.—Capt. Daniel Drew was acquitted of the murder of John McKinney August 3, 1887 Thursday. The crime was committed at Drew's home during a drunken debauch. Drew was convicted of the crime and given a life sentence, but the supreme court gave him a new trial.

Caused by Escaping Natural Gas.

EMERY WHEEL works were damaged to the extent of $15,000 Wednesday night by escaping natural gas lighting from a watchman's lantern. The watchman was badly, but not fatally, burned. Insurance on the building, $12,500.

To Pension Ex-Confederate Soldiers.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—A dispatch from Little Rock says that the bill to pension disabled confederate soldiers and their indigent widows, and to appropriate $10,000 for a soldiers' home at Little Rock, has passed both houses of the Arkansas legislature.

Failed for $5,000,000.

ROME, March 27.—Coradini Bros., bankers and merchants of Leghorn, have failed for $5,000,000 and will probably drag down several important houses with them.

A Slave Mill Burned.

COLDWATER, Mich., March 27.—The extensive slave-mill of B. G. Collins & Co. was burned Thursday morning, the fire catching from the smokestack. The mill and machinery is a total loss, amounting to $10,000. There was an insurance in Chicago companies for $4,000. Sixty men are temporarily thrown out of employment. The works will be immediately rebuilt.

Nebraska Appropriates $20,000.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 27.—The senate has passed the bill appropriating $20,000 for Nebraska's exhibit at the world's fair. The bill now goes to the governor.

Death of a Minuteman.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., March 27.—Charles Hull, a well-known and respected pioneer of Benton Harbor, died Thursday aged 94. He was one of the projectors of the Benton Harbor ship canal in 1840.

Foundrymen's Strike.

FOUNDRYMEN, Pa., March 27.—Millie Cappee, aged 16, committed suicide at her home here Thursday. The girl's parents wanted her to marry an aged suitor, and Millie, who was in love with a young man, took the matter so much to heart that in desperation she took her life.

WHITE CAPS IN KANSAS.

An Appeal Made to the Governor of the State for Protection—Thomas Duncan, a Farmer, Shot to Death by the Self-Appointed Regulators.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 27.—Reports of white cap outrages in the far western counties of Kansas, away from railroad and telegraph communication, have been frequently circulated in Topeka during the last two months, but they have been meager and unauthenticated and little attention has been paid to them. Thursday Gov. Humphrey received an official communication from the attorney of Cheyenne county relating the details of the murder of Thomas Duncan, a farmer, by a band of men disguised with white masks on the night of March 16, and requesting him to offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of those implicated in the outrage. The governor responded promptly and issued a proclamation offering a reward of $200 for each of the miscreants in the murdering party. The story as related to the governor is that about midnight of March 16 a party of twenty men rode up to Duncan's house. They were greeted by the loud barking of the settler's dogs, which brought Mrs. Duncan to the door. When she saw the armed mob she reentered the house and shut the door. The men quickly broke down the frail barrier and began to destroy the house, declaring that they would raze it to the ground. Duncan then came into the room and began to remonstrate. His wife came to his defense and the mob, who had been following several shots were fired at the defenseless man, one passing through the heart and the other penetrating the spine. The men then rode away. Duncan was accused of having pilfered grain from his neighbors in small quantities to be used for seed.

IN GREAT DISTRESS.

Starving Kansas Farmers Seeking for Assistance.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 27.—A committee reached here from Wallace county, Kan., Thursday afternoon in search of aid for the starving and freezing farmers of that region. When it was decided to send a committee here a mass meeting was called to raise money to defray the expenses of the delegates. Twenty dollars was needed, but that sum could not be secured out of the 200 men in the gathering. One of the committee took his horse to Sharon Springs and mortgaged it for the sum. The 2,400 people of Wallace county are hovering about fires made of buffalo and cow chips, and their daily fare is not enough to suffice a child for one meal. Last year was the fourth successive crop failure in western Kansas.

Twenty-One Years in Prison.

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., March 27.—The jury in the Charles Coombs murder trial, after being out fourteen hours, brought in a verdict of manslaughter and fixed his imprisonment in the state prison for twenty-one years. The verdict gave general satisfaction, though some felt the punishment was a little light. Coombs shot and killed a college student who was pounding on his fence while going home with a party of fellow-students some months ago.

Charged with Embezzlement of $10,000.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 27.—Harvey S. Meacham, a well-known young business man and agent of the N. & G. Taylor Company, importers of tinplate at Philadelphia, has been arrested on a charge of embezzlement. Meacham is in Philadelphia, who is in the city, accuses Meacham of a shortage of $10,000. Meacham admits that he used $10,000 of the firm's money, but says it was legitimately expended in handling about $100,000 worth of goods in the last two years.

Want an Extension of Time.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—At a meeting of creditors of H. J. & R. Crump, owners of the Colonnade hotel, the liabilities of the firm were placed at $250,000 and the accessible assets at $20,000. An extension of time, with promises to pay all debts in full, has been requested, and the matter has been placed in the hands of a committee of creditors.

Shot a Good Good During Life.

BOSTON, March 27.—Silas Potter, one of Boston's oldest wholesale shoe dealers and bank directors, died Wednesday. He was a liberal contributor to charitable and religious societies of Boston, and he aided largely in the cause of negro education in the south and in the establishment of schools and churches in the far west.

Mildly Hit.

MILWAUKEE, March 27.—The dead body of Nelson E. Hinds, a wealthy resident of St. Francis, was found Thursday afternoon with a bullet-hole through the head. He committed suicide. Mr. Hinds had been involved in a lawsuit over his land for some time past, and to that it attributed his suicide.

Indiana's Direct Tax.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 27.—The governor received from the secretary of the treasury a draft for $769,144, being the amount of the direct tax money returned to the state under an act of the last congress. The money comes just in time to enable the state to meet its obligations to the state institutions.

Death of a Prominent Mason.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Norman T. Gasette, an old citizen of Chicago, and well known in masonic circles throughout the country, died at his home in this city, aged 92 years. He was a prominent member of the Immanuel Baptist church, and was the first to hold the office of recorder of Cook county.

Took Her Own Life.

FOUNDRYMEN, Pa., March 27.—Millie Cappee, aged 16, committed suicide at her home here Thursday. The girl's parents wanted her to marry an aged suitor, and Millie, who was in love with a young man, took the matter so much to heart that in desperation she took her life.

DEADLY WORK OF A MOB

Negro Murderer Lynched at Cumberland Gap.

HANGED AND FILLED WITH BULLETS.

George Moss, Who Killed His Wife, and William Stangley, the Slayer of His Landlady, Executed in Pennsylvania.

A SOUTHERN LYCHING.

MIDDLEBOROUGH, Ky., March 27.—Another tragedy took place Thursday morning at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., a few miles from here, in which J. A. Burke, the telegraph operator at that place, was shot and instantly killed by Tom Hunley, a negro. Burke was on his way home when the negro discharged the contents of both barrels of a shotgun at him, tearing out his eyes, cheeks and teeth. He died instantly. The murderer then fled, but was captured here Thursday morning and taken back to the Gap by a circuitous route to avoid meeting a mob which had gathered to lynch him. While on their way back they were met by a band of sixty armed men, who took Hunley from them and hanged him to a tree. His body was then riddled with bullets. It was one of the most cold blooded and unprovoked murders that has ever disgraced this section. The murdered man was well known and liked here. He formerly resided in Louisville. Hunley was from Columbia, Ky.

MOSS' EXECUTION.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 27.—George W. Moss was hanged here for the murder of his wife. The drop fell at 10:19 a. m. The fall broke Moss' neck and he died instantly. The hanging was witnessed by only a few persons. Before the condemned man left his cell he said: "I am sorry for the sheriff, who is my friend, it must be an unpleasant job for him. I am glad the end is here. I don't think I ought to die, and if these were my last words—I never knew that I had shot my wife; but I guess I did it, and I would sooner die than live in prison all my life. If the sheriff would allow me I would pull the cap over my head myself and pull the rope, too. Good-by and God bless you." Moss walked to the gallows with a firm step and a smiling face. He said: "God does not hold me responsible for the murder of my wife, and I do not hold myself responsible. I did like a soldier, with a smile."

[Moss' crime was committed on the evening of October 10, 1889. A month or two previous Moss was arrested for threatening his wife and sent to jail. He was liberated the day before the shooting. He spent the night at a hotel and the next day bought a revolver. He went straight home and shot his wife dead as soon as he entered. He then put two bullets into his own head, but neither shot proved fatal. Moss was arrested on the morning following the murder. Counsel for the defense tried to establish insanity, but failed.]

WILLIAM STANGLEY.

MAUCH CHURCH, Pa., March 27.—William Stangley was hanged here for the murder of his landlady, Mrs. Albert A. Walbert, with whom he boarded, on October 12, 1890. He had quarreled with the woman and she had him arrested. The suit was afterward withdrawn, but Stangley brooded over the affair and on the morning of the murder went to the house and after the quarrel with Mrs. Walbert shot her in the kitchen. He narrowly escaped lynching when captured and was brought back to Weatherly. On the scaffold Stangley said he would meet the clergy who attended the funeral.
